Make a summary of the following passage:

Sports can be used for both purposes, good and evil. If used well, sports can teach endurance, courage, co-operation, fair play, a healthy respect for rules and the quality of putting group interest over one's own personal interest. If it is used badly, they breed undesirable vanity and rivalry. Thus sports can be used either to promote war-like tendencies or inculcate the value of peace and co-operation in dictatorial countries. Now sports are being used for good purposes.
